FROM CUBA

Born in Havana, Cuba, the pianist received his training at the Curtis Institute of Music in Philadelphia. After early successes in Europe, he returned to the United States to win the coveted Naumburg and Joseph Hofmann Awards.

After becoming an American citizen he was stationed in Tokyo with the Army of Occupation. He made musical history at that time by conducting the first performance of Gilbert and Sullivan's "Mikado" ever seen in Japan. He also made several appearances as soloist with the Nippon Philharmonic Orchestra.

Bolei has run up an impressive record of engagements and re-engagements with our foremost symphony orchestra under leading orchestras. Among them are the New York Philharmonic, the Philadelphia Orchestra and the Boston Symphony as well as those of Cleveland, Chicago, San Francisco, Los Angeles, Dallas and Washington.

SUMMER FESTIVALS

He has frequently been featured as soloist at such popular summer festivals as Tanglewood, New York's Lewisohn Stadium, Philadelphia's Robin Hood Dell and the Worcester Festival.

He was invited by the government of West Germany to be one of five distinguished American musical artists to appear in that country in 1954. The pianist has returned to Europe each season since and in addition to extensive recital tours, has played with such renow-ed orchestras as the Royal Philharmonic of London, the Amsterdam Concertgebouw and the Royal Orchestra of Copenhagen.

new look this year according to Phil Thomas, publicity chairman.
"We are spending time and ingenuity in an effort to make Winter Carnival pay off both in a moneyary sense, and in terms of student enjoyment," Thomas elaborated.

One of the new innovations for this year's event is Winter Y-Land Follies. It will take place on Feb. 9 in the Wilkinson Center Ballroom from 7 to 8:30 p.m. Tickets costing 75 cents per couple will be avail-will include the formal presentation of the 1967 Winter Carnival royalty and a fashion production spotlighting the latest styles in campus wear.

Fashion wear for both coeds and men from noted stores in Provo will be shown.

According to Follies Chairman
Wendy Johnson those attending

Procedures Outlined In Off-Campus Housing

Editor's Note: Many BYU students are planning a change of housing at the semester break. The majority of students live in off-campus units. The Daily Universe felt that an explanation would be helpful to those who are concerned with knowing University policy and procedure on off-campus housing.

Earlier in the year, The Daily Universe received several letters from students protesting certain new housing policies by some apartment owners.

The Residential Housing Office, located in C-141 Smoot Administration Bldg. is the office which handles relations with both apartment owners and students who live off-campus.

CONCERN FELT

Some students have expressed concern that they have no recourse in differences of opinions over contracts and rates with contract owners. However, there is a Student Housing Adjustment Board, which has been set up to handle difficulties and grievances that may arise between students and apartment owners.

The Board consists of one faculty member appointed by the BYU Administration, one landlord elected by all landlords in the area, and a student representative appointed by the ASBYU President.

THREEMAN GROUP

The faculty member acts as chairman of the board. After consideration of problems, they arbitrate for the benefit of the student and owner alike. Any students with legitimate problems or complaints should appeal to this board, according to the office of Delyle Barton, Residential Housing coordinator, but appeal must be made IN WRITING and submitted to the Residential Housing Office.

The Residential Housing Office maintains a complete rental listing service of all approved rental facilities in the community for the benefit of students wishing to obtain new housing at the semester change.

Listing cards are kept up to date, giving complete and detailed information about each rental unit.

AGREEMENT SIGNED

Caution is also urged to have students make sure the landlord has them negotiate a BYU student landlord rental agreement, rather than some type of verbal agreement.

The Student Housing Adjustment Board will normally arbitrate problems involving students who have signed BYU rental agreements, which the university furnishes to all landlords.

Decisions and arbitration will be made on verbal agreements only in special cases approved by the coordinator of residential housing. Students should seek housing only

Congressman Returns To Alma Mater—BYU

A Guatemalan Congressman was on campus last week—visiting his alma mater.

Rafael E. Castillo, a member of the 55 seat Congress in the Central American country directly south-east of Mexico, is a 1967 BYU graduate in Civil Engineering.

Castillo, his wife the former Janice Gordon and their six children will conclude their holiday visit with his wife's parents in Orem later this week.

Along with connecting ideas and suggestions from the Utah Bureau of Reclamation and the State Commission for Blind during his visit, Castillo lectured to several BYU history and political science classes.

Castillo likened the Guatemala government to that found in the U.S. with the three branches of government: legislative, executive and judicial.

"However," clarified Castillo, "the whole country of Guatemala with a population of four and one-half million can be compared to the state of Utah. What we call our president you call your governor."

Based on the belief that, "every citizen should participate in the political life of his country," Castello threw his hat into the ring for the first time and became one of two Congressmen to represent the 160,000 inhabitants of Quiche District. "There are 23 political districts in all," said Castillo.

Castillo, a former elders quorum counselor, noted several developments in The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints in Guatemala.

Grapplers Nab Two;
Miss NCAA MarkBy Glen Willardson
Universe Sports Writer

Heavyweight Bob Christensen frustrated a determined effort by UCLA's Kurt Sachau in the final match to give BYU a 19-13 victory over the Bruins Saturday night before 6,400 enthusiastic fans in the Smith Fieldhouse.

An attempt to break a new attendance record of 8,500 fell short, but the event probably did much to establish wrestling as a popular spectator sport at BYU. The victory was the second in three days for the matmen, as they overcame Utah by a 21-7 score Thursday night. Their record for the season now stands at 4-1.

Going into the final match between Christensen and Sachau, BYU had a narrow edge of 14-13 and needed Christensen's 4-2 decision for the victory.

In the opening match, Efraim Escalante of BYU and Sergio Gonzalez (UCLA) ended up with a 1-1 tie for a draw. John Hahn (UCLA) defeated Jeff Batchelor 6-4 in the 120-lb. class. Mike Terry, BYU 137-pounder, nearly pinned his opponent Jay Dess, but settled for an 11-3 decision to tie the team score at 5-5.

When BYU's Howard Hall gave the Cougars an 8-5 advantage by defeating 145-lb. Armando Muniz, 8-2, Joe Lyman followed with a 2-0 decision over the Bruins' Steven Alt in the 152-lb. weight.

Lee Ehrler of the Bruins quickly brought the Southern Californians back into contention however by pinning Steve Epperson in the 160-lb. class. Following Epperson's loss the Pumas held an 11-10 lead.

NORTON WINS 7th

John Norton widened the lead for BYU to 14-11 by winning his seventh straight match of the season on a 7-5 decision over Brian Doug Leig-Taylor. Norton's win made him the only undefeated BYU wrestler for the season.

Fell Chiefs, 35-10...

Packers Nab Pro Title

Los Angeles (UPI)—The poised and polished Green Bay Packers, led by superlative quarterback Bart Starr, captured the world championship of pro football Sunday by crushing the Kansas City Chiefs, 35-10, in the first game ever played between the National and American Football League titlists.

Held to a 14-0 lead in the first half, the Packers broke loose for two touchdowns in the third period that crushed the hopes of the Chiefs to demonstrate that the AFL was on a par with the senior circuit.

It was a case not only of too much Starr but also the brilliant pass-catching of the veteran Max McGee and the rushing of Jim Taylor and Elijah Pitts that spelled doom for the Chiefs.

McGee snagged touchdown passes of 37 and 13 yards while Taylor swept end for 14 yards and another score. Pitts pushed over touchdowns from five yards and a yard away on short bursts of speed.

But on every drive, it was the clutch passing of Starr, overshadowing the throwing of Kansas City's Len Dawson, that kept the Packers moving.

The crowd of 63,038 in Memorial Coliseum, some 7,000 below last minute estimates, sentimentally favored the Chiefs at the start. But as the Packers systematically demolished their foes the cheers were in honest admiration of the Green Bay team.

It came as no surprise that Starr was named Player of the Game and received an automobile as a reward.

Both teams appeared tense at first but quickly got over their world championship jitters.

Starr was first to find the aerial range. Early in the game he drove the Packers 80 yards in six plays, climaxed by his 37-yard scoring pass to McGee who took over at flanker for Boyd Dowler after the veteran was shaken up earlier in the first period.

McGee shot into the air on the Chief's 20 as Willie Mitchell dived at him, eluded the tackler and raced to the touchdown which came after 8:56 of the period.

On the drive, Starr completed four passes for 82 yards as the Packers lost two yards rushing.

The lead, however, lasted only four minutes into the second period when Dawson's passing game began clicking. He moved the Chiefs 66 yards in six plays, completing three passes for 35 yards including the end zone score.

Pumas Down Arizona F

the invading Pumas built up a 60-35 margin, but then things started to go wrong. The Wildcats got hot and whittled the Cougar's lead to nine points, but time ran out on Coach Bruce Larson's hoopers.

RAYMOND HIGH

Raymond, having another exceptionally fine game, was high-point man for the contest, with 27. Arizona State's Sun Devils gave the Cougars more of a battle on Saturday night in Tempe.

Though the Cougars led throughout the game by as many as eight points, the game "Devils refused to give in and knotted the score at 68 when time ran out in regulation play.

KARI SPARKS

Kari LUMO, sophomore forward who didn't start for BYU, scored seven of the 10 Cougar points in the five minute overtime period to spearhead the triumph.

Guard Gary Hill, who was ice cold from the floor against the Wildcats, poured nine of 12 through the basket Saturday tops for both teams.

Raymond was se BYU with 16, full James and Kari 1 apiece.

The Sun Devils players in double 0.

BYU Skiers
Claim 2ndBy Dennis Read
Assistant Sports Editor

The BYU ski team, behind senior Bob Forster, claimed second place in the Weber State College Invitational Ski Meet held at Snow Basin last weekend.

Forster swept to second place in the slalom Friday, then finished 10th among the downhillers Saturday.

Nine was the magic number for team captain Wayne Miller, as he finished ninth in both the slalom and the downhill.

Sophomore John West was a very respectable fifth in the slalom, but fell in the downhill and didn't finish. West was injured in the fall. Top man for the Y racers in the downhill was Gary Andrus who placed seventh. Sophomore Greg Carlston finished 11th.

Final team standings showed Montana State in first place, BYU second; Weber State College, third; Ricks College, fourth. Utah's powerful alpine contingent failed to appear until late in the meet, thus getting only a few points.

In University-approved units, the office said, University-approved housing is periodically inspected by committee members to make sure proper standards are being kept by the landlords.

Housing Coordinator Barton said that students should check carefully, by before entering rental agreements, then abide by the standards for housing listed in the Residential Housing Orientation Guide from the Residential Housing Office.

Barton said that housing facilities have been limited in the past, but with the enrollment ceiling will probably level off, and a surplus of accommodations in the next several years will probably produce greater competition between landlords.

An early check of semester turnover by the university indicated that nearly 180 students are moving out of one large off-campus apartment complex at the semester break.
